ACS COMMUNITY ASSOCIATE ORIENTATION

Dear Satadal,

I am thrilled to welcome you as a Community Associate of the American Chemical Society (ACS); one of the largest and most prestigious scientific professional associations in the world! I am grateful to have such a strong community committed to the field of chemistry, and we want you to know that we are here for you every step of the way.

I hope that as an ACS Community Associate, you will take advantage of our distinguished publications, products, and knowledge-sharing opportunities with our growing global community. To get started, I encourage you to:

- Log in to MyAccount to learn more about the benefits included with the Basic Package, such as the Chemical & Engineering News (C&EN) Essential newsletter, personal discounts, and more. You can find this under the “My Benefits” tab within MyAccount.
- Also, while in MyAccount, make sure your contact information is accurate and your communication preferences are updated, including newsletter and email subscriptions.
- Connect with us on social media for real-time updates about ACS, chemistry, and the things that matter to you.
- Have a question? Get answers, while expanding your professional network. ACS Link is a benefit that leverages the global ACS community, using AI to help connect you with people who can provide answers, privately! Log in here.

I am excited to welcome you to the ACS community!

Sincerely,

Tarn Kaur
Vice President of Membership and Strategic Engagement

Below is your ACS Membership Card.
You may wish to print it out so you can keep it handy!
